Former Dental Surgery with Development Potential STPP.

A substantial former dental surgery occupying a prominent terrace position within Horden, offering an exciting opportunity for investors, developers or owner occupiers seeking a property with significant potential.

Previously operated as a dental practice and historically arranged as a four-bedroom residential terrace, the property now requires a full programme of modernisation and refurbishment throughout. However, the generous internal accommodation and flexible layout present a rare opportunity to restore the building back into a large family home or, subject to the necessary planning permissions and consents, convert into a House in Multiple Occupation (HMO) or other residential investment.

The accommodation offers sizeable rooms across multiple floors with scope for reconfiguration to suit a variety of uses. Externally, the property benefits from a traditional terrace frontage and is conveniently positioned close to local amenities, transport links and the nearby Durham coastline.

This is an ideal purchase for buyers looking for a project with value-add potential in an increasingly popular investment area.
